PARIS Rug by Alexander Taylor

After the very successful launch of the World Map rug by Barnaby Barford in the autumn of 2007, we are proud to announce the arrival of the second rug into the thorsten van elten collection.

A pavement in Paris

PARIS rug by Alexander Taylor

Alexander was trying to realize a texture rather than a graphic for his rug and wanted to base it upon a traditional quilted fabric. A straight forward idea in theory but trying to communicate his idea to the manufacturer did not prove an easy task.

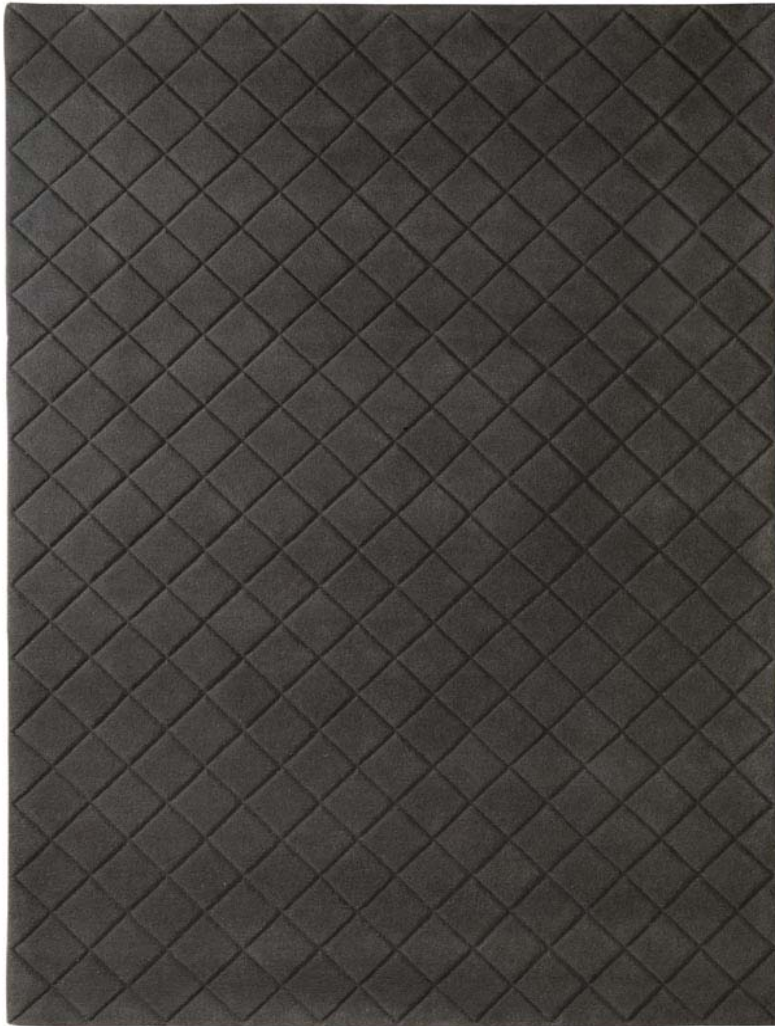

Coincidentally, whilst in Paris, Alexander happened upon a pavement which illustrated perfectly what he was hoping to achieve. He took a picture, sent it on to the manufacturer and before long we had a perfect sample and now a perfect rug.

The PARIS rug is 100% wool and hand-tufted in India.
